

Garden

Wilson

Down on the isles
We only took what was easy
Couldn't carry the weight of the world
On our backs
As the cold fell around
Your hands they keep what they needed
On the bridges we bow to the roots
And took the town
I drew the clouds then you made a garden
At times we don't have the same ideas
Cause I can't see what's near it
You say don't try to scream
Hold the thought of me
We will get what we cease
Just say it
Say that we'll hold onto this time
Say that we'll hold onto this time
Say that we'll hold onto this time
Say that we'll hold onto this time
After hours and alone
You count the inches between us
Envelop the space in me
To keep us sound
We'll make the path to get to the garden
Watching the weight of the world pass by
