

Sleeping Through Autumn

Melee

She was the girl who finally came along
Into my life and became a mystery
Can you be real enough so I can hold your hand
Hold you tight, close my eyes and everything will be alright I'm as weak and fragile as can be
Dont lead me on, come on, you know you do Escape all that you're afraid to be Run away with me tonight And I know it's hard and I know you cry sometimes
But I'll be here by your side as the leaves
And I'll hold your hand through the pain
As the leaves fall tonight She was a girl who, this morning, left alone
Out of my life as she had come
Can you breathe me in as fast as I can breathe you out ?
Look in my eyes and realize that everything will be alright No perfect word, no melody can sing all that you mean to me
If you give me the opportunity
Make your heart real and cry out for me
I'll take you away from this world for one second in time And I know it's hard and I know you cry sometimes
But I'll be by your side as the leaves
And I'll hold your hand through out the pain
As the leaves fall tonight And I know it's hard
And I know it hurts you
And I know you cry sometimes
And I know you miss her all the time
