Sleeping Through Autumn

Melee

She was the girl who finally came along
Into my life and became a mystery
Can you be real enough so I can hold your hand
Hold you tight, close my eyes and everything will be alrightI'm as weak and fragile as can be

Dont lead me on, come on, you know you do

Escape all that you're afraid to be

Run away with me tonightAnd I know it's hard and I know you cry sometimes

But I'll be here by your side as the leaves

And I'll hold your hand through the pain

As the leaves fall tonightShe was a girl who, this morning, left alone

Out of my life as she had come

Can you breathe me in as fast as I can breathe you out?

Look in my eyes and realize that everything will be alrightNo perfect word, no melody can sing all that you mean to me

If you give me the opportunity

Make your heart real and cry out for me

I'll take you away from this world for one second in timeAnd I know it's hard and I know you cry sometimes

But I'll be by your side as the leaves

And I'll hold your hand through out the pain

As the leaves fall tonightAnd I know it's hard

And I know it hurts you

And I know you cry sometimes

And I know you miss her all the time
