

Secret Service

Kansas

You don't mind giving into temptation
As long as no one knows
Your midnight invitation where your madness flows
Fires of passion rage all night
Angels falling out of the lightControl undercover you can paralyze
Every love is one more victim they never realize
All their desires burn like a fever
They want to run but they just can't leave herSecret service, secret service
Do they know how you scream?
Secret service, passion, hunger
Do they know how you scream?I should have seen through her disguise
She was a masquerade
Cold kiss, empty eyes, she began to fade
Feeling lost I want to be found
Heaven's in hell, don't look downSecret service, secret service
Do they know how you scream?
Secret service, passion, hungerDo they hear you cry?
Can they see your dreams?
Have they heard you sigh?
Or do you save it all for me
In your secret service?Secret service, secret service
Do they know how you scream?
Secret service, passion, hunger
Do they know how you scream?Secret service, secret service
Do they know how you scream?
Secret service, passion, hunger
Do they know how you scream?
