

Frogs Singing

Andrew Bird

Have you ever seen a fish
Jumping off from a quiet stream
Shine a moment in the light
And fall away again
Have you seen it, brother?
Won't you come outside and see
Have you ever seen the rain
Turn the earth to mud
And watch the mud turn gold
In the rising sun
Have you seen it, brother?
Won't you come outside and see
Won't you come with me tonight
Down to the lowland fields
To hear the frogs singing
In the air so hot and still
Won't you come with me, sister
Won't you come with me tonight
Oh down in the flooded fields
Where the earth is wet and dark
Oh down in the flooded fields
Beneath the falling stars
Won't you lie down in the dirt, brother
Be a mirror to the night
Won't you lie down in the dirt, sister
Be a mirror to the night
Won't you lie down in the dirt, brother
Be a mirror to the night
Won't you lie down in the dirt, sister
Be a mirror to the night
