Tough and Tender

Device

Baby wants to hold your hand
She just wants to hold your hand
Why she wants to hold it
You may never understand
But she just wants to hold your hand

Now she wants to steal your heart
Baby wants to steal your heart
What started out as nothing is tearing you apart
'cause now she wants to steal your heart

You would have her surrender
But she'll never let go
Oh, she's too tough and tender
Tough to love
Tender, though

Baby gets down on her knees
Down on her knees
She knows there's more than one way
She can please
When she's on her knees.

But Baby stands up to you
Oh, she stands up to you
She'll lead you to the doorway
But she'll never let you through
And she stands up to you

You would have her surrender
But she'll never let go
Oh, she's too tough and tender
Tough to love
Tender, though

And you may want her forever
But she'll never let go
Oh, she's too tough and tender
Tough to love

Tender, though
