Pat Green

Other night I ran into my girlfriend
Sitting at a table all alone getting stoned
I'm sleeping all by myself down in Corpus
 Think I'll find myself a bottle

So I can drink my ass back homeAll right, all right, go on and live your life tonight

 I'm fine, man I'm doing all right
 Never needed you to be a part of my life
 When you're sitting there all alone

Why don't you do yourself a favor, and leave me the hell alone all rightI've got a handful of empty pockets

 Yeah, I've got a bucket full of broken dreams
 You ever been on the wrong side of that highway
 Let me tell you something brother

Yeah, you know just what I meanAll right, all right, go on and live your life tonight

 I'm fine, man I'm doing all right
 Never needed you to be a part of my life
 When you're sitting there all alone

Why don't you do yourself a favor, and leave me the hell alone all right
