

Your Astronaut

Kyle Ray Brooks

I wanna fly straight to the moon
To get out as far as I can from you
And I know it seems a little harsh to do
But I left a note for you

I'm going away, baby
And I know it seems a little crazy
But I know, when you're home
You're not sleeping alone
So forget everything that you thought,
Love your astronaut

Now I feel like I'm here to stay
And I love you from so far away
And I made a home in the stars
Away from the pain of a broken heart

I'm going away, baby
And I know it seems a little crazy
But I know, when you're home
You're not sleeping alone
So forget everything that you thought,
Love your astronaut

Now you're alone
And I'm not coming home
Now you're hurting
And I've got no earnings

And I'm going away, baby
And I know it seems a little crazy
But I know, when you're home
You're not sleeping alone
So forget everything that you thought,
Love your astronaut
