Tailspin

Marshall

Tailspin
V1:
When love runs out and it takes us down
It's like a sparrow falling to the ground
We never saw it coming didn't make a sound
I never knew that it would end like this
The great unknown it's always a risk
I need to let go but I can't forgetCh1:
You put me in a tailspin
I don't know where I'm going or where I've been
I told myself I'm never gonna do this again
But now I'm livin' in a tailspinV2:
When one door narrows another goes wide
I still remember the very first time
I looked your way and I met your eyes
I never knew that it would start like this
We kept it going it was pure sweet bliss
The sweetest kiss that I'll never forgetBr:
Falling out or falling in Love will take you down like a hurricane wind
