

The Best

LMNT

You tell me, you need me
And you'll never leave me
I want to believe that it's true 'Cause if one day, I woke up
And found that we'd broke up
No one can take the place where there was you I could never fall in love again, there's no way I could pretend
Now that I've had the best
I searched forever but it never could be better than this
How could my heart forget I'd never be the same
And baby, your love's to blame
How could I settle for less
Now that I've had the best I know sure as I breathe
That your all that I need
To love you is what I'm living for 'Cause you love me so deeply
So strong and completely
There's no one who could ever love me more I could never fall in love again, there's no way I could pretend
Now that I've had the best
I searched forever but it never could be better than this
How could my heart forget I'd never be the same
And baby, your love's to blame
How could I settle for less
Now that I've had the best No one else can measure up to how you give me all your love
The best
If I loved ya forever it would never be enough I could never fall in love again, there's no way I could pretend
Now that I've had the best
I've searched forever but it never could be better than this
How could my heart forget I'd never be the same
And baby, your love's to blame
How could I settle for less
Now that I've had the best Baby, your the best

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>