[M: Axenstar, L: Magnus and Thomas Eriksson] Thousand miles away I see the light of day

A day that knows no tomorrow

Distant memories are buried in the past

They only bring me pain and sorrow [BRIDGE]

A story not yet told

Facing a wall of silence [CHORUS]

The scars I have inside of me never leaving me alone

Forcing me to be on my own trusting no one but myself

I'm trapped in a barren reality where nothing ever stays the same

Trusting you was my last mistake but the scars they will remain Many years have past and the soul never last

Tearing a hole in my heart

Falling down through life I'll never be the same

Sleeping while my mind rips apart See myself living a lie inside a castle of treachery

The future's wide open for me but I walk down a dead end street

Feeling the demons arise my body is numb from the unspeakable fear

But still I cannot face the real me
