

A Final Vestige

Daylight Dies

our dreams are ephemeral an elusive blur defenseless without devotion compromised by indifferenceadrift and asleep unconscious to transgression
the noise of the world
the thief of what once definedoceans of distractions run rings round our eyes awake enough to realize we're tethered to the worldadrift and asleep
the thief of what once defined us
