

Better Without You

Kelly Rowland

Moving without you, moving without you
Loving without you, loving without you Happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you
Better without you, better without you
Better without you Everything is cool
Im doing things my way
I packed up all my things
Im headed down the highway Every step I took
I took it on good ground
Every move I make
I always make it somehow Ive been through the storm
Ive been through the rain
Suffered the hurt
Dealt with the pain I used to say I didnt know
What I would do without you
If I can make it without you
But Im doing better without you Moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you I'm loving without you, loving without you
Loving without you, loving without you
Loving without you, loving without you I'm happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you I'm better without you, better without you
Better without you, better without you
Better without you, better, Im Pursuing all my goals
And knowing whats best for me
Living out my dreams
I saw whats important to me My focus is on point
And I can see clear now
And everyday is a brighter day
The darkness has died down I had some doubts
I cried some tears
Felt all alone
But it's crushed all my fears I used to say I didnt know
What I would do without you
If I can make it without you
But Im doing better without you Moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you I'm loving without you, loving without you

Loving without you, loving without you
Loving without you, loving without you I'm happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you I'm better without you, better without you
Better without you, better without you
Better without you I'm not reminiscing
I am living in this moment
I am moving forward
Cause the worst is far behind me I am leaving the resentment
I'm releasing all the tension
Cause it's finally about me Moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you I'm loving without you, loving without you
Loving without you, loving without you
Loving without you, loving without you I'm happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you I'm better without you, better without you
Better without you, better without you
Better without you, better I'm moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you I'm loving without you, loving without you
Loving without you, loving without you
Loving without you, loving without you I'm happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you I'm better without you, better without you
Better without you, better without you
Better without you, better, I'm
