Subject to the Ladder

Broadcast

I'm not Pygmalion, hooked by failure
Ruled as a juvenile, aged as an infantile
Subject to the ladderRuined by affection, excepted by exception
Predicted on a graph, cornered by ritual
Diminished by impression, cried out in the lesson
Subject to the ladder, subject to the ladderMy thoughts are coming through
Emptiness follows too
A cyclone full of feeling

The silence of the roomDefended by defendants, corrected by the pain
Inspected by a sadness, exhausted by a game
Subject to the ladder, subject to the ladderMy thoughts are coming through

Emptiness follows too

The silence of the roomA picture turning over, jewel in the water
Where Eco saw reflection, not what it taught her
Invaded by the quarrels and I denied the lathe

Let me chop down the laurel, a goal I won't escapeI'm bullied by deception but when the whistle came Esteem had broke infection, my torment fraught with shame

Subject to the ladder, subject to the ladderMy thoughts are coming through

Emptiness follows too

The silence of the roomSubject to the ladder
