Not so Different

Trapt

We're not so differentThere's a panic in the air
Lead you down a dark corridor
Round a blind corner
Beware, why do you stare?
You got a bad feeling
Heavy heart beating
So scaredWhat's really going on
Behind the scenes
Through the back streets
Down the alleyways
That nobody sees
Through the heart of what divides
Whenever I look into your eyes
We don't need the space between
We're close enough to see
We're not so different now
We're not so differentWe are almost there
And this is the beginning
As long as you are willing to dare
We've been everywhere
Looking for some meaning
Looking for a reason to care
What's really going on
Behind the scenes
Through the back streets
Down the alleyways
That nobody sees
Through the heart of what divides
Whenever I look into your eyes
We don't need the space between
We're close enough to see
We're not so different now
We're not so different nowWe're not so different now
(We're not so different now)
We're not so different now
(We're not so different)
Yeah, yeah...
You can't sum me up
Look me up and down

Before I show you what
I'm all aboutThrough the heart of what divides
Whenever I look into your eyes
We don't need the space between
We're close enough to see
We're not so different now
We're not so different nowWe're not so different now
(We're not so different now)
We're not so different now
(We're not so different)
We're not so different now
(Behind the scenes, through the back streets)
We're not so different now
(We're not so different)
(Behind the scenes, through the back streets)
Yeah, yeah-heah, oooh
