

Sadness

New Found Glory

I'm not good enough I'm just clearing that up
Call me curious and I won't blame you for trying to cut me out
Your head is full of doubt my mouth is full of blood
And you're winding downBut I would get caught up on how it used to be
And the thought of you leaving would drive me crazy
I won't get cut off following your lead If half of the world comes crashing down on meI know a thing know a thing about sadness
I know how it feels how it feels to be alone
Just hold me tight yeah you're the thorn in my side
'Till you go through it yourself you'll never knowI'm not good enough I'll just Spare you the details I'm making up
And I won't need you to ever come around
Here you're everything I fear
The criminal stealing all my hopeBut I won't get caught up on how it used to be
The thought you leaving would drive me crazy
I won't get caught up following your lead
And even if I do you will only tell meI know a thing know a thing about sadness
I know how it feels how it feels to be alone
Just hold me tight yeah you're the thorn in my side
'Till you go through it yourself
'Till you go through it yourself
You'll never knowMy heart sinks down in to my stomach
It's the taste of the end even if I don't want it
My eyes close don't know what I'm becoming
Just a shadow of the person that I was beforeYou can use my bones
You can use my bones
You can use my bones
If you want to put me back together againI know a thing know a thing about sadness
I know how it feels how it feels to be alone
Just hold me tight yeah you're the thorn in my side
'Till you go through it yourself you'll never knowI know a thing know a thing about sadness
I know a thing know a thing about sadness
