

Jesus Calling

33Miles

What do you see when you look at your world today? Is it so full of clutter that you feel like you're going insane? And you can't fight back cause your just too afraid, and it seems like the clouds in your sky don't want to change.

You see there's always another story, another side to every coin and how you see your circumstance is all about a choice.

When you see the rushing wind, feel the pouring rain, hear the thunder now as the clouds roll in, Your blinded by the lightening till you won't so hear that still small voice. Sayin' it's ok, you're not alone, you may be scared to death, but I won't let you go. And you may think the sky above is falling, can you hear Jesus calling?

What do you see when you look at your world today? Do you see a glimmer of hope as it all turns to gray? Well start by counting your blessing one by one and I'm sure right then you'll start to see the sun.

You see there's always another story, another side to every coin and how you see your circumstance is all about a choice.

When you see the rushing wind, feel the pouring rain, hear the thunder now as the clouds roll in, Your blinded by the lightening till you won't so hear that still small voice. Sayin' it's ok, you're not alone, you may be scared to death, but I won't let you go. And you may think the sky above is falling, can you hear Jesus calling... Ohh calling now to you, cause the darker the night, the brighter He can shine.

When you see the rushing wind, feel the pouring rain, hear the thunder now as the clouds roll in, then your blinded by the lightening till you won't so hear that still small voice. Sayin' it's ok, you're not alone, you may be scared to death, but I won't let you go. And you may think the sky above is falling, well you may think the sky above is falling, but can you hear Jesus calling?
