All Is Fair

The Fixx

Man is a beast
Came down from the trees
Crawling around
Spreads his disease
Up on the rocks
Playing with fire
Inventing his needs
To quench the desire
Blood on his hands
Love on his mind
Hell as a future
He's leaving Heaven way behind
All is fair in love and war
Kiss me you fool, it's love that we're all dying for
All is fair in love and war
Head for the hills, who knows what the fighting's for?
Man is a beast
Shame at the feast
There's too much to eat
Throw out the waste
At the beggar's bare feet
Aim for the moon
Shooting the stars
Insanity roaming the streets
But the sane drive new cars
Blood on his hands
Love on his mind
Selling the future
And the debts are left behind
And all is fair in love and war
Kiss me you fool, it's love that we're all dying for
All is fair in love and war
Head for the hills, who knows what all this fighting's for?
And man is a beast
Open the outer soul
Man is a beast
Down in a scorching hole
Still man is a beast
Up on the rocks

There you reburn, yeah, yeah
Finching his needs
Oh, quench his desires
All is fair in love and war
Kiss me you fool, it's love that we're all dying for
All is fair in love and war
Time and patience always finds the open door
All is fair in love and war
Head for the hills, who knows what all this fighting's for?
Man is a beast
Man is a beast
