

A Six Pack Ago

Steve Wariner

This mornin' if someone had asked if you're gone
I would've managed a smile and said, 'We're still hangin' on?
But if they pressed me, I could've honestly said, 'I don't know?
Oh but that was a phone call and a six pack ago
I knew, we were fading but I avoided the truth
And for my fool mistakes, I, I had no excuse
I kept telling myself, I just couldn't break 'neath the load
Oh but that was a goodbye and a six pack ago
Yes, I loved you but I lost you, now it's all comin' down
It's our fate and it's too late to turn things around
I was convinced, I could somehow just let it go
But that was a jukebox and a six pack ago
Yes, I loved you but I lost you, now it's all comin' down
It's our fate and it's too late to turn things around
I was convinced, I could somehow just let it go
But that was a jukebox and a six pack ago
I was convinced, I could somehow just let it go
But that was a fistful of quarters and a six pack ago
