

If You Love Someone

The Veronicas

If you love someone

If you love someone

Wake up in the morning, take a breath and let it out
Just forget tomorrow's ever gonna come around
Everybody's medicated, takin' time I'm waiting for the right time
And I'm showing life fullest of your life
Going round and round in circles, we make a weaker on straight ahead
Never ever let a moment pass by,
When all that matters is in the end

If you love someone, then tell them right out
'Cause your heart won't rest 'till you let it out
Let the words that you dream come right of your mouth
If you love someone you gotta make a sound
If you love someone you gotta make a sound
If you love someone

When true love is starring you in the face,
But the words that you're feeling never find their way
You're so invisible to the one you want
And you'd give anything to win their love
We can get lost in things that we make for days
In the blackest nights
But there in the dark you found that the stars are Shinning their brightest light

If you love someone, then tell them right out
'Cause your heart won't rest 'till you let it out
Let the words that you dream come right of your mouth
If you love someone you gotta make a sound
If you love someone you gotta make a sound
If you love someone

Oooh oooh oooh
Ooh if you love someone
If you love someone
Yeah

If you love someone, then tell them right out

'Cause your heart won't rest 'till you let it out
Let the words that you dream come right of your mouth
If you love someone you gotta make a sound
If you love someone you gotta make a sound
If you love someone
