

November

Sleeping With Sirens

Everday is all the same
Like no matter what what the reason is the seasons never change
I think of all the time I spend Drifting far away and zoning out, as I'm clocking in
Tell my loved ones that I wish them well
There's a fire in this November sky
It's burning up, burning up
They'll remember me tonight
There's a fire in this November sky
It's building up, building up
And they'll remember me tonight
And this time, in this town
Woah, woah, woah
They're wandering in the skies (skies)
And there's a single lullaby as the ashes learn to fly (ashes learn to fly)
And this'll be my holiday
No more living with my fears because I made them all away
Tell my loved ones that I wish them well
There's a fire in this November sky
It's burning up, burning up
They'll remember me tonight
There's a fire in this November sky
It's building up, building up
They'll remember me tonight
And this time, in this town
And the flames are running high
The flashing lights
Light up the sky
And they will run to there
And this time, in this town
And the flames are running high
The flashing lights
Light up the sky
And they will run to there
They collide (woah)
And they'll to way
It's a goodnight
There's a fire in this November sky
It's burning up, burning up
They'll remember me tonight
There's a fire in this November sky
It's building up, building up
They'll remember me tonight
And this time, in this town
Woah, woah
They'll remember me tonight in this town,

Woah, Oh

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>