Impact

Juliette Commagere

You say you want to marry me
It's dark in here I can not find the light
You said why don't we go outside
We can wander around
We can stay up all night
I know I have to come around
If I want to find this
If I want to make it real iI know I have to put it down
Like to crawl, make it hard, make it mmmmOh I might like that Everything has lost its impact
Oh I might like that Everything that's lost it gets away from meTime blows us along the road
Used to love the sky wide and hanging and low
And wave grow when it was clear
We'd watch the city lights as they disappear
I know it's not temporary
My love shakes like a leaf unsteady
I know I can, can really love
Like a shell, like a drum don't know where to goOh I might like that Everything has lost its impact
Oh I might like that
Everything has lost its impact
Oh I might like that Everything that's lost it gets away from me
