

The No Seatbelt Song

Brand New

So, it's sad that doesn't suit you now.
And me fresh out of rope
Please ignore this lisp,
I never meant to sound like this.
So take me and break me
And make me strong like you.
I'll be forever grateful to this and you.

It's only you, beautiful.
Or I don't want anyone.
If I can choose it's only you.

Fix me to a chain around your neck
And wear me like a nickel.
Even new wine served in old skins
Will cheapen the taste.
I shot the pilot,
Now I'm begging you to fly this for me.
I'm here for you to use,
broken and bruised.
Do you understand?

It's only you, beautiful.
Or don't want anyone.
If I can choose,
It's only you.
But how could I miscalculate
Perfect eyes will have perfect hate.
If I can choose, it's only you.

• We're wrecking •
And I'm dry like a drum
So fine I'll leave
We're spent
Take our time
Measured
We slave for days.

It's only you, beautiful.
Or I don't want anyone.

If I can choose.
It's only you.
But how could I miscalculate
Perfect lies from a perfect hate.
If I can choose
It's only you.

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com
written by LACEY, JESSE / LANE, BRIAN
Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>