

Losers and Winners

Accept

You told me that you like her, but she doesn't wanna know.
You tried so much to take her, but there's no way to go.
I know that kind of feeling, knocking on someone's door.
I know the endless crying when you don't know what you're living for.
Write a letter. (What's the matter?)
You'll find better. (Write a letter.)
You'll feel better when it's done.
There's one way to show what you feel for the girl.
Write her a loveley letter, tell her what you're looking for.
Don't think it's old fashion to take one's heart (when it's true).
You gotta take it as a man when you can't win her in this game.
Write a letter...
There are losers and winners, just like you and me.
You should give me the letter; I'll use it for my own.
Maybe she wants to take me before she stays alone.
Could be my destination to pick up broken hearts.
Why don't you take it easy and screw the girls who's next to you.
Write a letter...
