Elevator (feat. Mark Hoppus)

Box Car Racer

The building turned it's back
Ignored my call
The concrete looks too thin to break my fall
The sunset stretched across this night time scene
I counted people as I neared the street below, whoa, below, whoaI saw it all, I saw it all go down
The shadow grew as he approached the ground
The sunset stretched across this night time scene
I turned away as he came near the street, below, whoa, below, whoa, belowLet's forget this all, move on
Let's forget this all, move on
Let's forget this all, move on
Let's forget this all, move on
Let's forget this all, move on
Let's forget this all, move on
Let's forget this all, move on
