

Either Side of the World

Crowded House

Either side of the world, chase the sun
Pay the maximum rate to feel so lonesome
Wrapped up like little lambs, safe from harm
Enjoy it while you can, happiness is far from home
You know it, he knows it, everybody knows it
When you're in love the world moves with you
Whatever you want, they're happy to give you
The last resort
Where the famous have come to be alone
Try to work it out, the same progression
Sometimes I try too hard to overcome
Sometimes I think too much, wish I could've held my tongue
You know it, he knows it, everybody knows it
When you're in love the world moves with you
Whatever you want, you turn yourself into
And then you're in hell
Luxury and leisure never meant pleasure
Real life but different passion and commitment
Commitment
Wish I could've held my tongue
You know it, he knows it, everybody knows it
When you're in love the world moves with you
Whatever you want, they're happy to give you
When you're in hell
Luxury and leisure never meant pleasure
Real life but different passion and commitment

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>