Dead City Centres

Ulver

You're taking a ride to the underworld

Where death lurks in dark corners

And trouble is never far awayWild gangs rule by fear and prey on the weak

Lone killers haunt the highways

And dark forces move through the shadowsIn this lowlife realm of freaks and psychos

Only the tough or the streetwise survive

And you might be big, but to stay big

You've got to keep moving, stay sharp and hit firstEnter a deadly future where no prisoners are taken

And the killing never stops

Enter the underworld
