

Green

West Indian Girl

You feel inside, so long ago a dream
The sky and sun were real
And everyone was there to wave you on
It takes by surprise, that love never dies
Everywhere, everyone's a fighter above love
Working alone so hard, you try, its a bad day
So you talk, talk to your spirit, it gives you soul
Never look down, never look up from the world
You let go
It takes you by surprise
All those pictures we keep alive
When love never dies
Nothing to collect or lose
The train is here, it's slowing down for you
See all those years in their eyes
Tell them, have they loved or have they lied
The last light fades away
My image of you remains
You face the star, it won't fall
Then I know we fooled them all
Then I know we fooled them all
Then I know we fooled them all
