The Warning

Neverending White Lights

In moments I forget, I'll tell you what it takes
But you don't want to know this yet
I let the virus bite someone else's brain
I invade you now
I fade you out
I made you now
I erase you nowStill, those pattern repeat
They'll leave you all, leave you all in pain
And now I can't recall if someone would have said
I invade you now
I take you down
I make you now
I erase you nowThese moments make you cry for someone else's life
They over feed you all until you die
They say they love you but they all love you, no way
Your cuts will drain your heart awayTake someone else's life away
Someone else's life awayYou had a warning
You didn't want it
You can't come crawling back nowYou had a warning that you wanted

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/