Are you willing to choose what I have in my mind?
Say it loud, with a voice of no reason in mind
I suppose this question will be answeredAnd I suppose the answer's here to save us
Have you heard have you listened lately?
Single word, single vowel, yet nothing frustrates meNow I don't think you like me now
Now I don't think you like me nowHave you heard? It's a silent dream
It chooses the weather of your soul stream
So drop me down, let me feel this either way
Face me inside with a broken view, a broken heart, disappearNow I don't think you like me now
Now I don't think you're like me nowHold it, hold it
I won't leave you
Now hold it down, pleaseSing alone, sing aloud, to be alive, its so good to feel you near Swim alone, live a dream, see me drown, all this in apathy
Be still for a moment
So you can face this world, you face it all for a moment
So you can face this world, you face this worldHold it, hold it
I won't leave you
Now hold it down, please
