

Should've Been In Love

Wilco

You been dealing with all of these feelings
Like they got you believing they have no meaning, but they do Your life's been stinking, your heart's been sinking
And you're too busy thinking to stop, you blink and you're blue
Should've been in love
Should've been in love
Should've been in love
Your mind's been racing, your heart's been chasing
And you might as well face it, time's wasting, it's true
Your life's been stinking, your heart's been shrinking
And you're too busy thinking to stop, you blink and you're blue
Should've been in love
Should've been in love
Should've been in love
I know how it goes, so I just had to let you know I know My life's been stinking, my heart's been shrinking
And I'm too busy thinking to stop, I blink and you're gone
We should've been in love
We should've been in love
We should've been in love

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>