Unglamorous

Lori McKenna

Understated, overrated side
Carnival ride
Curtains fadin', threadbare rugs
Real life, the baby stayed up all nightHow wonderful, Rhinestone, torn black, saddle shoes
How beautiful, the ones I never get to use
No frills, no fuss
Perfectly us, unglamorousFrozen dinner, chilly glass of wine
Tastes just fine
Two bread winners, five kids in short time
With eyes just like mineHow wonderful, crowded dinners at the kitchen table
How beautiful, one tv set, no cable
No frills, no fuss
Perfectly us, unglamorousNo diamonds in our bathtub rings
Peanut butter on everything
No frills, no fuss
Unglamorous, unglamorousHow wonderful, travel road leading to a front door
How beautiful, old worn socks on a bedroom floor
No frills, no fuss
Perfectly us, unglamorousUnglamorous, unglamorous
