Don't Look Back

Artemis

running blind speaking only confusion i can see we've got to get underground don't be fooled don't think their medicine can heal you only time it'll all work out alright so don't turn back now don't look back now

every lie each myth of mass delusion sound like lullabies till we make it back to the light i was hypnotized when they made the flames look like water now i seek the fire when i want to cool my body down and i won't turn back now

run rabbit run you tunnel down i tunnel out thru the moon an unlocked door we're shopping for a human world breath is like an arrow no target no intention like heaven's spaceship sending me beyond time and it won't turn back now
