It's You

Heavenly

You never led me to believe that I'd be with you.
You never gave me reason to stay true.
When people look at us, they think 'she cannnot love him.
How could she love a boy who seems so cruel?But I do, oh I do
Hurtful things seem sweet from you.
And I do, oh I do
It's true
And I do, oh I do
You paint my world all black and blue,
But I do, oh I do
It's youYou listen to my tears and then you ask forgiveness.
You promise not to act that way again.
And when you do, I hope we're through, but I'm still waiting
Waiting for the I love you's to end.But I do, oh I do
Hurtful things seem sweet from you.
And I do, oh I do
It's true
And I do, oh I do
You paint my world all black and blue,
But I do, oh I do
It's youYou promise me to never fall apart,
You never start to say that I have reason.
And finally I know I'll have to leave, but till I go
I pray that you might change.But I do, oh I do
Hurtful things seem sweet from you.
And I do, oh I do
It's true
And I do, oh I do
You paint my world all black and blue,
But I do, oh I do
It's youYou listen to my tears and then you ask forgiveness.
You promise not to act that way again.
And when you do, I hope we're through, but I'm still waiting
Waiting for the I love you's to end.You promise me to never fall apart,
You never start to say that I have reason.
And finally I know I'll have to leave, but till I go
I pray that you might change.But I do, oh I do
Hurtful things seem sweet from you.
And I do, oh I do

It's true
And I do, oh I do
You paint my world all black and blue,
But I do, oh I do
It's youI just can't help myself with you
I just can't help myself with you
I just can't help myself with you
