

Point Blank

Wordsworth

you only outride the same outside and be refused by entry, cut down high you'll be beside yourself, and criminal elements dig the underground that stalemate to thyself the plane outside.... forego the frenzy now, it seems the edge is torn and cracked licking, cutting, freezing for the longest time in short the ill will be in dream and water flow that whole that heats up inbetween us both.... sent of disseverence
the flame that used to fall between us is the deficit
they climb the sinking side indifferent elsewhere hangs its hardened head above us on the edge.... sent of disseverence
they climb the sinking side indifferent elsewhere hangs its hardened heads above us on the edge....
