

Last Dance

OZMA

say hello to your last chance same as your first chance a kinder reminder from ozma say hello to the new sound same as the old sound so spin it, get in it, and stay i knew that the night had an end soon in sight until you called my name say hello when you've spied her sitting on the dryer it's spinning, 9th inning, so play say hello like a spider weave a web right beside her spin it, get in it, and pray i knew that the night had an end soon in sight until you called my name i knew all along i was right but i'm wrong somehow you knew my name after the last dance, you lose your last chance after the last dance, you lose your last chance you lose your last chance you lose your last chance you've lost your last chance
